WRITING STORIES

Directions: On an outing for one of this month's nature activities, write a fictional story about what could have happened on your adventure! Use this worksheet to organize your thoughts and ideas. Remember: You may make up characters and events as this is fiction!

Where does your story take place?

Who s the main character?

What does the character want?

What problems or difficulties does the main character encounter?

How does it get resolved?

Then type or write you story on another sheet of paper making sure to use detailed descriptions, logical sequencing, dialogue, sensory language and a logical conclusion.

Illustrate a scene from your story below.
